

Flying Change Farms Presents Jessica McKendree

Jessica McKendree is a 3-day event rider with a passion for teaching horseback riding to entry-level riders of all ages. Over the past 20+ years, she has had the privilege of introducing numerous individuals to the sport of horseback riding, helping them progress into their first years of horse ownership and competition.

As an instructor, her primary focus is on creating a safe and fun learning environment for her students. She places great emphasis on horsemanship, teaching riders how to interact with their horses in a manner that is respectful and mindful of the horse's needs. She ensures that each student progresses at their own pace while developing a strong foundation of riding skills.

Jessica is a strong advocate of continued education and is always seeking to advance her rider's technique and understanding of the discipline. She believes that the learning process never ends, and regularly attends lessons, workshops, clinics, and other training programs to keep up with the latest trends and techniques in the field.

In addition to her decades working with horses, Jessica also has a Master's Degree in Education from CSU Sacramento. With this she brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the table. Her expertise in instructional design and pedagogy allows her to design lessons that are engaging, informative, and tailored to the individual needs of each student.

If you're looking for an instructor who is committed to helping you achieve your riding goals while ensuring that you have fun and stay safe in the process, then she is the perfect choice for you!
